

ENERGETIC CANCER CARE SHEET

By Edwin Courtenay

The guidance contained within this document is meant to be used IN CONJUNCTION WITH conventional medical treatment and NOT AS AN ALTERNATIVE. The advice I always give first and foremost and above and beyond anything else I offer is ALWAYS FOLLOW THE ADVICE OF YOUR ORTHODOX DOCTOR!

When healing cancer there are many different approaches offered which can be confusing, some people advise using visualisation to destroy cancerous tumours and cells, whilst others advise sending healing energy towards them. Some encourage the draining of the cell or tumour of life force whilst others focus on correcting the cancerous cells "programming".

Because both the cause and manifestation of cancer is different for almost every person I have always been guided by Spirit that it is inadvisable to "assume" anything or to try to treat all cancers as the same – instead we should allow Spirit to flow through us when healing, surrendering ourselves to the Higher Power and the Higher Wisdom of the Divine. Letting the power work through us without our interference, focusing on becoming a pure channel for the light and energy and leaving the power's focus and function up to the Gods.

If anything we should focus on love, feeding the client with loving energy, the love we feel for them, the love we feel for the Divine and the Divine work that we do. Love diminishes all darkness, all negative energy and at the same time boosts and amplifies positive energy, the immune system and the holistic self, helping to restore harmony and well being. To this end working with a crystal called Sugillite (sometimes called Luvulite) can help as this is – in my opinion – the most powerful crystal for the manifestation of Divine Love (and Light) energy. Known by some crystal healers as THE cancer care stone it literally wraps its wearer in a blanket of love and light. Though an expensive stone a little goes a long way and so very expensive pieces do not have to be found in order for them to do the trick.

Spirit have in the past identified a link between the manifestation of cancer and grief – whether this be the grief we feel for a loved one who has died or a dream that has become lost to us. Whether we feel grief for the loss of a business, a house or a child who has moved out of our home and grown up. This is not THE cause for cancer but can be for some a contributory factor and so dealing with the grief – with EFT, counselling, homeopathy or any number of orthodox or alternate therapy that works for us can help to diminish the cancer and prevent it from returning – always in conjunction with advised orthodox treatment. Crystals such as Obsidian and Amethyst can help here as they are absorbers and transmuters of negative emotional energy.

For those undergoing chemotherapy or radiotherapy as a result of cancer there are a few suggestions Spirit make for dealing with their undue side effects – as well as following your doctors advice. Grounding the excess energy from both therapies is vital to the energy system, this can be done by walking bare foot on the grass or earth or (if the weather is inclement) resting the feet on either a large stone or a collection of small ones. This needs to be done as soon as possible after the treatment has occurred.

With more targeted treatments – such as radiotherapy – holding a small Smokey Quartz cluster over the area that has received the treatment for three to four minutes can “draw out” excess energy resulting in less unpleasant reactions and sensations and quicker healing. The Smokey Quartz will need to be placed on the ground after use to discharge excess energy and after using it once a week may need to be rested for a week whilst another piece takes its place.

As a result of both the treatment and manifestation of cancer the holistic system – mental, emotional, spiritual and physical – can go into trauma and as such the chakras become imbalanced and the subtle bodies fall out of alignment (usually to the left of the body). Using the colour orange and/or orange stones can help, wearing the colour, visualising the colour or using Aura Soma Orange Pomander or the Orange over Orange shock bottle can help.

Some people imply of course that cancer can manifest as a result of karma – which in SOME cases can be true. Some books offer suggestion that the karma is as a result of black magic used or the misuse of power in past lives or because of selfishness or negativity – which in SOME cases can be true. HOWEVER, as I have said before ALL cancer cases are as different and unique as the person with the cancer is and so we should never assume that cancer is a manifestation of one of these karmic maladies or karma at all. It never hurts to do some karmic clearing work on someone diagnosed but karma should not be seen as the only root cause. Present life issues as well as environmental factors have been known to have their contributory effects and of course with some people it is simply part of their spiritual journey – whilst with others the true cause is never ever known.

In cases where severe depression and pessimism ensues because of the diagnosis Spirit recommend rainbows as a colour treatment – whether this be wearing rainbow coloured clothing, surrounding ones self in rainbows or wearing rainbow coloured stones like Opals or Rainbow Moonstone or wearing Moldavite a meteoritic stone known to help download and anchor more of the Souls light into the Spirit and Body. Though it is important to note that this stone should not be slept with as it can cause insomnia.

PLEASE NOTE: The above suggestions have been drawn from my experiences with cancer patients that I have treated throughout my career, they may not concur with other healers and therefore you should use your discernment in choosing whether to use them or not. Also – once again – please do remember that the above guidance should only ever be used IN CONJUNCTION WITH ORTHODOX MEDICAL TREATMENT AND NEVER AS AN ALTERNATIVE FOR IT.
